Contract Islamic Religious Services Opportunity:

Dayton Correctional Institution is seeking a provider of Islamic religious services. The successful applicant must be appropriately credentialed in the faith.

Any candidate applying must be in good standing with his or her denomination. Any candidate selected will be subject to a background check and must undergo institutional orientation training as well as specialized training under the Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA). The selected candidate must be willing to accept that a prison is a potentially hazardous environment. Dayton Correctional Institution houses approximately 930 female offenders of the security levels minimum through maximum.

Services desired include Taleem and Juma as well as holiday services for Ramadan, Eid-ul-Fitr and Eid-ul-Adha. General pastoral care and counseling of Islamic offenders is another part of the duties to be performed by the successful candidate.

This contract will be for services rendered in the amount of $10,000.00 per annum to be invoiced by contractor monthly. The candidate selected will be expected to coordinate his activities with the Institutional Chaplain under the overall direction of the Deputy Warden of Special Services (DWSS). Duty hours of approximately ten hours each week are expected.

Monthly reports of services rendered must be submitted to the DWSS each month and attendance at the yearly Religious Services meeting is required.

Interested candidates should submit their resumes to Franklin Davidson, acting DWSS at the address above.

Resumes may also be submitted via email to: Franklin.Davidson@odrc.state.oh.us

All resumes must be received on or before March 15, 2014.
