

Product Name	Manufacturer	Vendor Part No	Description	Unit of Measure	State Price
SIN-51 - Non-professional Services	TG500	TG-PRGM	Program Manager: The purpose of the Program Manager is to develop business with and successfully execute work for clients within the market sector, plus other designated clients with significant related needs. The Program Manager is responsible for overall P&L and long-term growth of the sector to meet the company's long-term growth plan. The Program Manager is responsible for; Identifying opportunities in the market place including commissioning or conducting market research as necessary; determining which portion of the market to focus on and specific clients/prospects to target; marketing and sales, revenues, work product quality, design standards, profitability, staff coordination and personnel.	1	$ 172.28
SIN-51 - Non-professional Services	TG500	TG-SC	Senior Consultant: Personnel in this labor category serve as Senior Project Managers providing strategic consulting and project management for GIS projects. These personnel apply extensive knowledge and GIS expertise in support of application development projects or GIS enterprise implementation. Consulting services may include strategic planning and analysis, requirements definition, logical and physical project designs, database design and development, and system integration consulting. Management services may include oversight of project timelines and deliverables, establishment of budgets and schedules, allocation of staff and resources, oversight of subcontractor activities.	1	$ 141.45
SIN-51 - Non-professional Services	TG500	TG-SPM	Senior Project Manager: The Senior Project Manager is responsible for the successful management of assigned projects and for the penetration of assigned client accounts. The Senior Project Manager is responsible for marketing and client development, technical quality, profitability, schedule, project staff coordination, client communications, negotiating scopes and fees, billing and collection of fees, and client follow-up and maintenance. The Senior Project Manager may manage several mid-sized projects or a single larger project simultaneously	1	$ 133.29
SIN-51 - Non-professional Services	TG500	TG-PM	Project Manager: The Project Manager is responsible for the successful management of assigned projects and for the penetration of assigned client accounts. The Project Manager is responsible for marketing and client development, technical quality, profitability, schedule, project staff coordination, client communications, negotiating scopes and fees, billing and assistance in collection of fees when required, client follow-up and maintenance. A Project Manager may manage several mid-sized projects or a single larger project simultaneously.	1	$ 96.12

Product Name	Manufacturer	Vendor Part No	Description	Unit of Measure	State Price
SIN-51 - Non-professional Services	TG500	TG-SSE	Senior Software Engineer: Functions as Geospatial Technologies lead, and is responsible for a wide variety of production tasks and some task supervision for ongoing Geospatial projects. Assists Project Managers, Group Leader and Sector Leader in meeting project deliverable requirements and deadlines. Understands and interprets client business applications and is responsible for developing applications and products to fulfill customer requirements.	1	$ 117.88
SIN-51 - Non-professional Services	TG500	TG-PA	Programmer/Analyst: The Programmer/Analyst under limited supervision, assists in the design, development, implementation and maintenance of systems, software, GIS, GPS and data integration solutions to administrative, scientific, and technical problems through the use of computer technology. Responsible for a wide variety of production tasks and some task supervision for ongoing Geospatial projects. Understands and interprets client business applications, and is responsible for developing applications and products to fulfill customer requirements.	1	$ 86.14
SIN-51 - Non-professional Services	TG500	TG-GISA	GIS Analyst: The GIS Analyst is responsible for completing assigned tasks under the supervision of the Group Leader or Project Manager. The GIS Analyst, under limited supervision, assists in the design, development, implementation, and maintenance of systems, software, GIS, RS, GPS, and data integration solutions to administrative, scientific and technical problems through the use of computer technology. Understands and interprets client business applications, and is responsible for developing applications and products to fulfill customer requirements.	1	$ 81.61
SIN-51 - Non-professional Services	TG500	TG-GISS	GIS Specialist: The GIS Specialist is responsible for completing assigned tasks under the supervision of the Group Leader or Project Manager. The GIS Specialist, under general supervision, assists in the design, development, implementation, and maintenance of systems, software, GIS, RS, GPS, and data integration solutions to administrative, scientific, and technical problems through the use of computer technology. The GIS Specialist is considered to possess mid-level GIS and analytical skills that are beyond those of the Technician level.	1	$ 63.47
SIN-51 - Non-professional Services	TG500	TG-GIST	GIS Technician: This GIS Technician is expected to apply the concepts of GIS and Data conversion learned through education and/or experience to solve tasks as assigned.	1	$ 50.78